CHAPTER 1

NOVA SCOTIA 39TH GENERAL PROVINCIAL ELECTION

1. Nova Scotia 39th Provincial General Election

1.1. Summary of Results

On September 7, 2013, at the request of Premier Darrel Dexter, the Lieutenant Governor, the Honourable J.J. Grant CMM, ONS, CD (Ret'd), dissolved the Legislative Assembly. An Order in Council directed the Chief Electoral Officer to issue the writs of election to all 51 electoral districts, ordering that the 39th Provincial General Election be held on Tuesday, October 8, 2013.

At the time of dissolution there were 52 electoral districts in Nova Scotia. Standings in the House of Assembly included: 31 members of the Nova Scotia New Democratic Party, 12 members of the Nova Scotia Liberal Party, 7 members of the Progressive Conservative Association of Nova Scotia and two vacancies.

In the October 8, 2013 Provincial General Election, 176 candidates stood for election: 51 from each of the Nova Scotia Liberal Party (NSLP), the Nova Scotia New Democratic Party (NSNDP), the Progressive Conservative Association of Nova Scotia (PC), 16 representing the Green Party of Nova Scotia (GPNS), and 7 independent candidates.

Elected to the House of Assembly were 33 members of the NSLP, 11 PC, and 7 NSNDP. No candidate of the GPNS or independent candidate was elected.

The NSLP received 190,112 or 45.71% of the valid votes cast, while the NSNDP received 111,622 votes (26.84%), and the PC 109,452 votes (26.31%). The GPNS received 3,528 votes (0.85%) while independent candidates received a total of 1,238 votes (0.3%).

By close of the polls on election day, there were 720,077 electors registered to vote. In total, 419,091 of those electors voted using one of the ways to vote offered throughout the writ period. The percentage of electors who voted was 58.2% compared to 57.91 % in 2009, and 59.89 % in 2006.

A total of 2,221 polling stations were set up in 905 different locations across the province; 183 stations received advance poll voters; 1,949 polling stations serviced election day voters and 89 mobile polls served electors in residential centres. More than 6,000 Nova Scotians were employed.

To enhance access to voting, new voting opportunities were introduced including the continuous poll in each returning office, the out-of-district poll facilitating electors to vote at any returning office regardless of their place of residence, the campus poll that enabled students and other electors to vote at short-term polls on university and NSCC campuses, and the hospital poll that enabled patients and staff to vote in hospital on specific days before election day.

The following tables summarize the results of the 39th Provincial General Election of Nova Scotia.

Table 1-1 below provides the general election recapitulation.

1.5. Register of Electors 2013

1.5.1. List Statistics and Population Coverage

Since the adoption of a Register of Electors in 2003, Elections Nova Scotia has worked to increase elector registration and enhance the reliability of the information. Prior to 2003, each list of electors was compiled through province-wide, door-to-door enumeration. Since then, Elections Nova Scotia has maintained the Register of Electors through continuous exchange of information with other public organizations and through bi-annual projects to update the elector information in the Register, carried out by the returning officers under direction of Elections Nova Scotia.

In 2013, the Register of Electors captured around 93% of the eligible voting population of Nova Scotia, based on the Statistics Canada's Nova Scotia eligible population of 758,822 persons.³

Table 1-7: Comparative Registered Electors Count on Preliminary and Final List

List of Electors	Number of Electors
	2013	2009	2006
Preliminary List	710,715	703,386	647,638

Table 1-8 and the subsequent graph (Figure 1-3) indicate the constant increase in the number of registered electors since 2003. The number of registered electors reflects the final status of the List of Electors at close of elections.

1.6. Electoral Geography in 2013

1.6.1. Electoral Districts

The current 51 electoral districts were defined by the Nova Scotia Electoral Boundaries Commission in 2012.

The largest electoral district by geographic size is Guysborough-Eastern Shore-Tracadie (5,267 km²) followed by Queens-Shelburne (4,518 km²) and Inverness (3,826 km²). Table 1-12 sorts the electoral districts by geographic size, from largest to smallest.

The 51 districts are currently divided into 2,067 polling divisions with Queens-Shelburne having the largest number of polling divisions (60 polling divisions).

CHAPTER 2

COMPARATIVE STATISTICS AND TRENDS

2. Comparative Statistics and Trends

Before 1981 the only voting opportunities were the advance and ordinary polls. In 1981 the Elections Act was amended to add another early voting opportunity, the Special Poll, in an attempt to increase voter turnout by making voting more convenient for the elector. In the 2003 general election, voting by Write-in Ballot was introduced after further amendments to the Elections Act in 2001.

For the 2013 Provincial General Election, Nova Scotians has several new voting opportunities enabling voting on every day during the election period except Sundays and the Monday before election day.

2.1. Comparative Provincial General Election Results 1960-2013

Table 2-1 and the following chart (Figure 2-1) provide a historical trend, ranging from 1960 to 2013, of the voting opportunities and their uptake by voters during provincial general elections.

Table 2-1: Percentage of Votes Cast by Voting Opportunity 1960-2013

2013	720,077	419,091	74.4%	1.2%	12.4%	-	9.6%	2.4%

As per the graph (Figure 2-1) below, since 1998 electors have been increasingly casting their vote at the advance voting opportunities. In the 2013 Provincial General Election, over 102,000 voters cast their vote at the continuous and write-in ballot polls held at the different returning offices, university and college campuses, and hospitals around the province, raising their percentage to more than 24% compared to the 16% in the 2009 general election.

Table 2-2 and the following chart (Figure 2-2) provide a daily trend of the uptake of advance voting opportunities throughout the election period.
